ESSENTIAL FACTORS

This meeting will be an important step in our step-by-step program to encourage developments in China which will enable us to resume a stable and productive bilateral relationship.

We believe it is important to preserve the pattern of reciprocal hosting which evolved in our high-level exchanges with PRC leaders prior to June 1989. In 1988, both nations funded the exchange of ministerial visits - by Foreign Minister Wu Xuguan to the U.S. in March and by Secretary Shultz to China in July - on a reciprocal basis. In 1989 the Chinese paid all expenses for the President's visit to Beijing, including hotels and lodging, and we funded the special visit of National People's Congress Standing Committee Chairman Wan Li in May.

Based on these precedents, we propose the Department cover for Qian and his party:

- the air travel from New York, where the Minister will be attending the Security Council, to Washington;
- lodging in Washington; and
- ground transportation in New York and Washington.
